Nazi parties before March 13, 1938—the day the Germans occupied Austria. Those members will be considered guilty of high treason and subject to sentences of five to 10 years at hard labor.

One of the Nazis who commanded the final defense of Vienna—the notorious SS General, Sepp Dietrich—was reported captured by the American Third Army. The Russians earlier had reported Dietrich was killed. Joseph Goebbels has taken credit for his capture.

In London, a Foreign Office spokesman says the new German chancellor, Admiral Dönitz, may yet have to stand trial as a war criminal. An investigation is under way to determine if Dönitz should be tried for giving order to U-boat crews to take no prisoners.

FIND TREASURES

The search for the Nazi officials has disclosed also the hiding places in the Bavarian Alps where many of the art treasures looted from France, Russia and other occupied countries have been stored away from them from bombing. Many of the German owned art treasures have also been found in the four big caches so far uncovered.

Captured Nazis guarding the caches say the looting of the French treasures was ordered personally by Adolf Hitler and Hermann Goering, and that it was carried out by the German army and the Gestapo.

Force under the direction of Adolf Rosenberg, Nazi head of spiritual and ideological education, and Hitler's chief Jew baiter.

The hunt for the men at the helm of Hitler's regime will be pursued relentlessly, said Allied officials.

CAMPAIGN STARTED

The campaign, already underway, is expected to speed up next week after a period in which campaigning was slowed down because of the Victoria Loan campaign which ends today.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, is the party's campaign guru at Charlottetown last night, calling upon Canadians to defend themselves against the building of a speech and more United Nations.

With his characteristic speech Mr. Bracken marked inauguration of a nation-wide election tour. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Prime Minister King, attending the San Francisco world security conference, is scheduled to open his campaign May 16 at Vancouver.

Several days in his riding of Prince Rupert, he will be in the city of Vancouver.

CCF leader J. M. Gault, also at San Francisco, will start his election tour at Victoria May 21.

His campaign is scheduled to open his plans to fly to the Maritimes and then to work his way westward, concluding at Vancouver.

Army Rehabilitation Plan
Includes "Khaki College"

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY, MAY 12—(CP)—The 1st Canadian Army plans to establish a "khaki college" in the United Kingdom to cover the first and second year of university work as part of its rehabilitation training program connected with demobilization.

Although no details of the college have been available immediately, the army announced its training and welfare program for troops to cover the period to which they leave for Canada.

The plan includes an elaborate educational program within units and also for more advanced instruction in academic, vocational and technical subjects at rehabilitation training centres to be established by corps, divisions and army troops.

In addition to establishment of the khaki college, informal educational activities also will be carried out.

OFFICERS IN CHARGE

Those responsible for executing the plan are formation commanders and their staffs, unit commanding officers, chaplain, educational and auxiliary services. A detailed recreational program also will be drawn up, an intensification of existing facilities at all levels.

All kinds of sports are planned for every unit and formation. An increase in the leave allotment in Europe outside Germany is planned and the possibility of exchanging leave periods with troops conducted by travel agencies being investigated.

The post-hospital plan is based on the assumption that from two to three hours in the morning will be devoted to military training, physical training or recreation, and the remainder of the day to civilian duties, that in all units at least one-third of the total personnel will at all times be engaged in essential military duties but that operations will be carried out in a more relaxed manner.

Personal commitments of most units will not be too heavy to permit them putting into effect the full plan.

TRAINING AIDS
Aims of the rehabilitation training to be undertaken here are outlined as:

1. To acquaint every soldier with changes affecting him, his family, his community and Canada as a whole which occurred during his absence on service.
2. To interpret and explain differences between Canadian ways of life and corresponding aspects of civilian life in the country to which he has served.
3. To raise the level of the occupational skill and education of the soldier to enable him to improve his status in civilian life.
4. To explain provisions for post-discharge training and education and advice regarding them.
5. In general to prepare the soldier for return to civilian life.

Some want to give regional security systems such as the one that American republics now have in operation, the right to speak their own voice in their own spheres. There was talk on limiting a world organization system to regional systems.

Debate on the "no-vote, no-right" question continued today in the enforcement procedure committee, based on the amendment to the Dumbarton Oaks plan which is the basis of this conference, was offered yesterday by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Long Prison
Terms Given
V-E Rioters

Naval Rating Stanley M. Stoppa, Winnipeg, was sentenced to two years for breaking a plate-glass window at the Regina Hotel, Gerald J. Lajoie got two years on a similar charge.

Edward Newell, civilian, who gave no address, got two years for breaking a window at the Regina Hotel. The accused men were among the ringleaders of the rioting, Crown Prosecutor P. T. Hickley told the court.

The curfew was set by Mayor A. M. Butler for 8 p.m. and this was extended to 10 p.m. last night. The extension to 12:30 a.m. beginning tonight, was ordered in view of last night's riot. Services and women were allowed out of barracks for the first time since the riot.

INQUIRY UNDER WAY
While a federal inquiry was under way here, New Waterford, Cape Breton, was under a 7 p.m. curfew that was in full force during the rioting. Wednesday and Thursday nights, A. 50 Royal Canadian Mounted Police, New Waterford police and military police to keep order.

SERVICE DISCIPLINE
PROS. CONCERN OF C.T.C.—Service personnel are still discussing the rioting and the extent of their participation in one of the worst feuds against authority in the history of the Canadian Forces.

Some 200 were languishing in jail, the result of charges growing out of the rioting and the looting which began on Monday and Tuesday of last week. They were made up principally of civilians with a general sprinkling of the navy and army. In the meantime, investigations were underway in all three services.

LONG NAVY TOWN
Halifax has been a navy town since the first world war. It is a town where most navy towns and like all ports, it has its own character and its own life. It is a town where the navy and the civilian live together in a community.

But at the outbreak of the present war, Halifax became the chief port of North America. The city of approximately 75,000 did its best to cope with the influx of additional 50,000. But the plan that it was its best was not good enough.

The hotels and restaurants became crowded, food became scarce, the streets were overfilled and the men landing at the docks for a few hours leave after a few days and weeks of discomfort on the north Atlantic were given places to stay.

King and subsequent proposals made by New Zealand. Gordon Graydon, representing Canada on the committee dealing with the political and security functions of the proposed general assembly, needed for an end to the long arguments on procedure.

As a result, the committee decided to discuss the basic principles to be decided.

CONFERENCE PROGRESS
Yesterday afternoon Mr. King conferred with Prime Minister Smith of South Africa and Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand on the progress of the conference and common problems.

A spokesman said there would be no formal statement regarding the talks, but stressed that no effort had been made to present a common front on the demand of the middle powers for assurance they would be called on to contribute forces without representation on the council.

J. Gordon Ross, Liberal candidate for reelection in Moose Jaw, fed, described a recent visit to a "calamity" if Premier King and his party were not returned to office.

"I have the greatest responsibility in this country," he said, "it is your duty to decide what is best not only for Canada but for all the empire."

Mr. King was the only man remaining on this continent who had been in close touch with the negotiations of war leaders and the conflict began. All hopes for the peace would be shattered if there could be a peace that would land Mr. King was the most important figure had yet surrendered, was not in securing that peace.

WAR NOT WON YET
Mr. King made a recent visit to Australia, New Zealand and the New Guinea battlefield. He said that officers had told him that no one could have held out so long, and those who think this war is over better look at it again for we still have a long battle to win.

Far too Much Ballvahoo In Victory Loan Campaigns

But all the music and drama and excitement have been reserved for the Victory Loan campaigns—just

I speak quite personally, of course, but I feel that many will agree with me that the course of ballyhoo prescribed by Ottawa for promoting Victory Bonds is in poor people who resent any connection with the United Kingdom and the British Commonwealth. The matter of inter-Commonwealth relations is one for mature and intelligent study, not for the reiteration of vague generalities and catch phrases.

J. E. W. thinks we would be better off if united to the U.S.A. He declares categorically: "At least we and the States have lots in common and would advance more. We wouldn't be deprived of our labor's fruit, thereby improving our own way of life". Unfortunately, however, J. E. W. adduces no arguments or examples in support of his flat declaration which, accordingly, carries little weight.

American Industrialist Slated To Speak Before City Churches

On May 26 and 27, R. G. LeTourneau, one of America's leading industrialists and manufacturers, designer of heavy-duty moving equipment, with more than 75 patents, will speak in various churches in this city. He will appear in Edmonton on Saturday evening, May 26, at a banquet at the Macdonald Hotel. The speaker is an agent of the Government and civil officials, together with business men of the city.

Mr. LeTourneau, who is known to his friends as "Bob", is considered one of the most remarkable men in America today. It is no exaggeration to say that he is an American leading Christian layman. As a prominent manufacturer, inventor and leader, his modern earth-moving machines have revolutionized the construction of highways, airports and canals.

A LEADER
As a Christian layman he is an outstanding leader in his own field. His contribution of time and money to God's work in eleven years of a small garage operated by this "one-to-one" mechanic has grown to a large five-story factory, employing a steady business of many millions of dollars and employing more than eight and ten thousand people.

Romance of Our Hymns

Some hymn-writers are to their credit of introducing into their hymns the romance of the hymn. Some hymn-writers are to their credit of introducing into their hymns the romance of the hymn.

By KATHLEEN BLANCHARD
Samuel Wolcott was born in South Windsor, Connecticut, 1813. He was educated at Yale, going on to Andover Theological seminary in 1837. After graduation Wolcott filled his great desire to go as a missionary to the Near East, to the places and sites with which his studies had acquainted him.

The mission of the American Presbyterian Church in Syria had done much for the education of the natives, and was justly proud of its medical school there. In days long since gone, Syria was renowned for its export of lumber.

The universal language in Syria is Arabic. There is an American Syrian document written about the year 1890 A.D. which gives an account of a severe flood in November of that year and mentions that the temple of the Church of the Christians is overturned by the flood.

After some years, Wolcott returned to America, serving churches in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and elsewhere.

For a time he was the valued secretary of the Ohio Home Missionary Society, where he was active in the returned to Long Meadon, where he was died at the age of 72.

Wolcott was the author of many hymns, all of which were written in his life. Many have been published. The best-known is perhaps the one given. The author records how it came about.

"The Young Men's Christian Association of Ohio made a list of churches with their motto, in eleven hymns, over the pulpit, Christ for the world, and the world for Christ. This suggested the hymn 'Christ for the World We Sing'."

"It was when on my way home from that service that I composed the hymn."

It may be wondered in certain American collections, as well as in Laudes Domini, 1844.

Christ for the world we sing! The world to Christ we bring. With loving zeal, The poor, and them that mourn, The faint and overburdened, Sin-sick and sorrow-worn, Whom Christ our Lord.

Christ for the world we sing! The world to Christ we bring. With fervent prayer, The wayward and the lost, By restless passions torn, Redeemed at countless cost, From dark despair.

Christ for the world we sing! The world to Christ we bring. With one accord, With us the work to share, With us the work to share, With us the work to share, With us the work to share.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Mother's Day and the Crusade

THE MOTHERS of the world are on the heart of the Church today. No church can crusade without the help of mothers. No movement for human relief and betterment of society can fail to visualize the mothers who are in the midst of the picture of suffering and sacrifice. Jesus set a child in the midst of them, and by that act placed honor on the head of motherhood.

This Mother's Day brings to the fore the millions of mothers around the world, of every race and nation, of every degree and kind. Most of them in these days have some sore tug at their hearts. A heart-broken, bleeding world is a world in which mothers suffer most. Their hearts bleed, their hearts are broken. They need the healing which can only come from the compassionate Christ. They pray for a world in which His compassion can be shown.

THANKSGIVING—The Rev. J. MacBeth, M.A., D.D., minister of First Presbyterian church who will conduct a Thanksgiving for Victory and Mothers' Day Service on Sunday morning.

Omnescent Captain
A story is told that once the passengers of a vessel streaming along the St. Lawrence River were very angry because, in spite of the fact that heavy fog was swirling the boat, the captain went to the first mate and complained, "Oh, mate, be steady! The mate replied, with a smile, 'The fog lies low, and the captain is high above it, and the captain is going.'"

Confirm Airmen

Thirty-two British airmen stationed at Acre, Gold Coast Colony, West Africa, were confirmed jointly with a group of 40 native Christians, according to a report in the Church Times, London.

Arrangements had been made to have the airmen confirmed by Anglican Bishop. Then, when they heard that African candidates were to be confirmed at Winneba, 70 miles distant, they asked if they could go there instead.

Warmly greeted by the African congregation, the British airmen approached the bishop along with the native candidates and knelt side by side for the laying on of hands.

Bracken Urges Greater Unity Post-War Years

CHARLOTTETOWN, May 12.—John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, said last night that if Canadians are to keep faith with the Fathers of Confederation and with those who gave their lives in the war, then, today, we must dedicate ourselves anew to the building of a stronger and a more united Canada.

In a speech at a meeting which marked the inauguration of a cross-party dominion election tour, Mr. Bracken said that the Fathers of Confederation had laid well the foundations of the nation and it was up to their successors today to "build on the foundations they laid, mend the weak spots in the design, build a superstructure that if they were here they would approve."

He spoke in the Charlottetown forum, a short distance from the building where the Fathers of Confederation first met, in 1864.

"We must go forward as a united Canadian nation," said Mr. Bracken. "If we are to have a progressive society at home or an effective voice abroad, we can do no less. It is but an empty gesture to participate in world controversies for the establishment of lasting peace if within our ranks at home, there is disunity on any matter of major concern to us all."

UNITY SACRIFICED

In Canada today, national unity has been sacrificed upon the altar of political expediency. Needless friction has been cultivated between the great races.

"Before it is too late, all people of goodwill throughout this nation must act to stop the trend of separatism thus fostered for political benefit. It is an immediate and challenging duty which lies before us. Its fulfillment must become an urgent and consuming desire for us all."

Those returning from the battlefields had a right to expect that Canadians at home had risen to the defence of Canada within its boundaries during their absence. As for those who would not return, the best monument that could be built to their memory was a structure of Canada such as they "would have us build for the society they died to save," said Mr. Bracken.

PRAY THAT THEIR SACRIFICE WILL NOT BE IN VAIN—Such is the theme about which centred the special V-E Day window displayed by Campbell's Furniture Ltd. Attention of the passer-by to this display is caught by the silent seated figure whose head is bowed in reverent before a flag draped pulpit illustrating the grateful thanks of Canada to its fighting sons. A mellow light shines through the stained glass windows and on either side the flags of the Allied Nations drape over the stone walls upon which are carved such historic names as Dieppe, Ortona, Falaise, Hong Kong and Sicily. Sacred music completed the atmosphere of the setting. Campbell's V-E Day window will be kept on display for the next few days.

BACK AT OLD JOB—Typical of the thousands of Canadian men who are going back to their old jobs after overseas service is F. W. Krause, shown as a Canadian Pacific Railway trainman at Red Deer.

Employees of CPR Return to Old Posts After Overseas Service

Quietly and unostentatiously, hundreds of Canadian Pacific Railway men are coming back from the wars to take up their old jobs in many departments, and in all parts of the system.

So of them, all members of the running trades, are back at work on the Alberta district, and each has seen his full share of overseas service.

"I'm happy to be back in Canada, particularly in sunny Alberta. England is nice, but you can't go anywhere without a raincoat," was the comment of F. W. Krause, who returned to his old job as trainman at Red Deer, after five years of active service.

ENLISTED AT START
A millwright from 1923, he joined the active army in January, 1940, joining the Royal Canadian Artillery, 75th battery as a lieutenant, and was overseas by July, 1940.

Promoted to captain in July, 1942, he landed on the Normandy beach on D-Day and three days later, when he stepped out of a tank to reconnoiter, he was wounded in the right leg. "I don't know where those stretcher bearers came from—they came as fast," he said.

Returning to Canada he was discharged from the hospital and in the army in January of this year, and went back to his old job as trainman April 3. His daughter, Shirley, was only 10 months old when he left her; she was five years old on his return. Mr. Krause was a regular reader of the Canadian Pacific Staff Bulletin during his overseas service.

John McKenzie is back at work as an inspector at Lethbridge, he left to join the 112th Light Anti-Aircraft Regiment in October, 1941. He landed in Canada at Petawawa, Ont., and was sent to Fort Reliance, Alaska, where his battery operated for U.S. troops, and landed in France on D-Day plus 30. Mr. McKenzie served all through France and up to Orléans in Belgium, but was wounded and hospitalized, being discharged finally at Newcastle, England.

POSTED AT LETHBRIDGE
He has been working at Lethbridge as boiler since February of this year. Mr. McKenzie is a veteran of two major wars. He served with the British army from 1915 until 1919 when he came to Canada, and after several years in the American army stationed in Honolulu.

Chinese Armies Ready to Play Important Role

Japan may be able to keep up the fight for two years, but if Russia joins the Allies against Japan, which is likely, then the war in the eastern theatre should be concluded within a year, in the opinion of Col. M. Thomas Tchou, Oberlin, Ohio, who arrived here on Friday.

Col. Tchou is a former secretary to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, and is one of China's foremost military leaders. He is a graduate in mechanical, civil and naval engineering of the University of Glasgow, and is the author of many publications dealing with housing, social and labor problems of China.

TO PLAY BIG PART
He said that the rejuvenated armies of China were making ready to play a big part in the conquest of Japan on the mainland of China. He added that just two weeks ago these armies scored a notable victory over the Japanese, the first major offensive victory in 18 months.

He said a second victory has been achieved in the last two days. These victories, he added, are the prelude to a series which will drive the Japanese from the mainland of China and will restore to the Chinese territory lost by the Japanese aggression.

During the eight years of open hostilities between China and Japan the Chinese losses total 20,000,000 people, including civilians.

He said the Chinese have called 600,000 young men to the colors. These troops are being armed with the latest weapons by the Allies as fast as they can be brought to the front.

The 2,000,000 men of the old armies are also being retrained with the latest weapons, he said.

At the same time, the navy at Toronto and Norfolk, Virginia, which fits him for his new job as fireman.

He was with a landing craft during the Canadian army's landing on the Sicily beaches and his ship went aground on the Italian coast two weeks ahead of the troops' landing there.

He was taken prisoner and liberated by the Allies September 9, 1942, when he again sought service and was wounded in the foot, hand and face by a hand grenade. Mr. Pace was in hospital in England until May, 1944, and returned to work at Medicine Hat as fireman last fall.

Former Commander Says:

Germany Freed From Gangsters

By JACK FLEISCHER
Exclusive To The Edmonton Bulletin

SEVENTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, May 12.—(HUP)—Gen. Nikolaus Van Falkenberg, former German commander in Norway, paroled yesterday with an assertion that the Allies have liberated Germany from "a system of gangsters."

Falkenberg was picked up at Trondheim, where he had fled when the Russians approached his home near Berlin. One of Germany's ablest strategists in combined land, sea and air operations, he commanded all forces in Norway from the invasion April 9, 1940, until the middle of last December.

He said he was relieved of his command when Col. Gen. Ludke Rendulic went to Norway from Finland following the latter's capitulation.

"Germany is again as a world power now, and you need never fear she will rise again and wage another war," he said. "It would take 100 years to repair this country in the point where it was in 1940."

He said that the rejuvenated armies of China were making ready to play a big part in the conquest of Japan on the mainland of China. He added that just two weeks ago these armies scored a notable victory over the Japanese, the first major offensive victory in 18 months.

He said a second victory has been achieved in the last two days. These victories, he added, are the prelude to a series which will drive the Japanese from the mainland of China and will restore to the Chinese territory lost by the Japanese aggression.

During the eight years of open hostilities between China and Japan the Chinese losses total 20,000,000 people, including civilians.

He said the Chinese have called 600,000 young men to the colors. These troops are being armed with the latest weapons by the Allies as fast as they can be brought to the front.

The Old Parties ADMIT FAILURE
● 2,000,000 new jobs are needed after the war. Yet, private enterprise plans to cut 1945 employment by at least 10%.
● A recent Government survey of industry's post-war plans proved so damaging to private enterprise that the Liberals banned it. The Cabinet refused to release the report to the press.
● A private enterprise spokesman, C. H. Curless, president of the Dominion Bank, warns against:

"Believing that post-war conditions will be free from want, free from fear, free from unemployment and depressions. . . We (private enterprise) are at a loss. . ."

This evidence proves that the Liberal-Tory private enterprise groups stand solidly opposed to progress and the realization of a decent secure future.

2nd Defeat For Losers In 2 Games

A single to short field by much better Dorcas Barrett followed by an error at first base allowed two runs to score and gave Ken McAlister's Morton-ites their first victory in the City Girls' Fastball League Friday night when they overcame Wak-Rites 4-3.

Mortons were trailing 3-2 entering the top half of the ninth. Marrie Mercer started off the winning rally with a single to left field. Betty Arnold, next up, flied out to centre field, but Annabelle Thompson received a free ticket to first. This put the winning run of first and second.

"Kelley" McDonald went out, pitcher to advance the runners to advance a base. Dorcas Barrett then went to bat in place of Dot Fletcher and slammed out the victory hit, driving in Mercer and Thompson. Wak-Rites went out in order in the last of the ninth.

The loss was the second straight for Marrie Sadman's Wak-Rites. Annabelle Thompson and Amy Stokes turned in nice efforts on the mound for their club in their first appearance, both allowing only one hit.

Mortons got away to a fine start in the first inning when Joanne Dymall rounded the bases on a single past third base and a safety by Millie McMiller.

Wak-Rites tied it up in the third on a run to first. Dorcas Barrett then led off and three errors and then added two more in the fifth to go ahead.

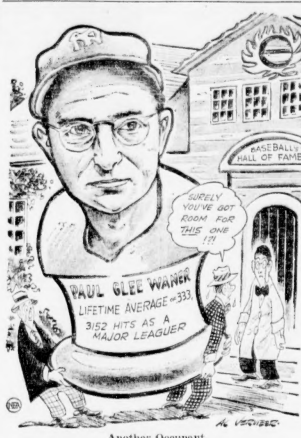

Mortons got one run back in the sixth when Marrie Mercer flied out on two errors in left field. Both clubs played tight ball for the rest of the game, and then the

American Horses Coming As Result Lifting of Ban

By LOU DAVIES

CALGARY, May 12.—First of the shipments from south of the border for the western racing season which opens at Victoria Park on May 24, 12 thoroughbreds, representing four different racing interests, are due to arrive in Calgary on Saturday night.

Lifting of the ban on racing in the United States this week will likely result in numerous shipments from the States. While the ban was in force it was impossible for American owners to ship here.

Heading the first southern arrivals is the stable of Mrs. K. E. Pierce who is bringing five head—Zoll, Colla, B. Sullivan, and Aqua Caliente with the first two turning in winning efforts. Another will be remembered as a good sprinter. She was five times first in the season and six times third last season.

Ed. McLean, who raised stables in the west of recent years, is bringing three head. They are Freddie Thel, and Grey Ghost. Grey Ghost, a winner last year, was a second starter in Mexico. The other two were in the money on numerous occasions last year.

Bill Abbott, well-known as the owner of the famous My Friend, is coming to Calgary with a one-horse team. This is Valinda Capito who was five times first, five times second and four times third last year.

Randall, who is bringing two head, is the stable of B. R. Hughes, who has also campaigned here in other years. His charges are Duke Naxon, Farmhouse and War Key.

Preparation and arrangements for the opening of the western season have a week from next Thursday.

The racing secretary's office has been opened by F. L. Smith, clerk of the course, who is busy registering more than 250 horses already scheduled here.

Starter Jim Donovan has commenced schooling sessions from the Grandstand and the large group of juveniles of this year are expected to be coming along nicely.

Two Calgary youths are expected to make their riding debut during the week. They are Jimmie Rios and James Johnson and Eric Albinson. Both have been developed by J. R. Kipping, who is now and are getting plenty of work, exercising thoroughbreds in the large string under Kipping's care.

Junior Fastball Opener

South Side Blanks Combines On Ross Shantz's No-Hitter

Junior fastball started with a bang at Kingsway Park last night when Ross Shantz registered a no-hit, no-run game in hurling South Side Athletics to a 6-0 win over Derry's Combines in the opener of the City Boys' Junior Fastball League. The contest only went seven innings.

The rest of the South Side team joined in with Shantz and came up with a nice left attack. Rod Clark and Neil Taylor led the offensive, each slugging a home run over the left field fence in the first inning. Clark, who batted third for four, waded into one of the best hits of the season and Taylor, next man up, followed right in his steps. Taylor had a perfect night at the plate, hitting three for three.

George Samis was on base when Clark homered and the three runs in the first inning proved to be the winning effort.

Colin Kilburn and George Samis rounded the bases in the third frame to make it 3-0 and they in the next inning Shantz walked and was driven in by Kilburn.

By a strange coincidence Lou left for Canada that afternoon—for his health.

With the western racing meetings only days away, a humorous story comes to light about Lou Davies, the form chart's representative out west for the winter season at Mexico City. Lou was form chart for the winter season at Mexico City. Lou was form chart for the winter season at Mexico City. Lou was form chart for the winter season at Mexico City.

The story takes place the day after Lou managed to get a fair job of picking six winners in the race card. A laugh-inducing story, with a wicked look about his sombrero, fairly broke Lou's office door down and demanded an immediate answer.

"You're the fellow who picks the winners under the name of 'Sweep'?" the person queried. Lou nodded in the affirmative.

"Well that is bad, only having six winners yesterday!"

"That's all right," the astonished Lou, "You're right."

The intruder apparently reached the remark, pulled a wicked-looking revolver from his pocket and said, "Tomorrow, you pick me six winners, see?"

By a strange coincidence Lou left for Canada that afternoon—for his health.

Windows Will Be Special Feature Of Houses in Era Following War

Sticky windows that won't open, especially in damp weather, that scrape or scratch when they do go up; that seldom get cleaned on the outside where housewives can't get at them; that mean a full week-end's work for the family man to get the storm windows off and the screens on in the spring, and vice versa in the fall.

The postwar homebuilding industry is planning to do something about them. In fact, the pre-war industry was well on the way to win the only two well-known eggs. It put plans for something more in keeping with the modern, weathered house.

WILL SWING
One variety of postwar window will not go up and down like the conventional window, but will swing in and out like the carport. It will swing around on a central pivot, and the screen will swing around on a central pivot.

Furthermore, the back-chaining lugs of sticky windows will be eliminated. Lugs which will be removed, the screen will be 100 per cent controlled from the inside of the room.

Housewives will no longer lean on the window frame to get the window open. They will lean on the window frame to get the window open.

DEFLECTS WIND
The new window will deflect the wind. It will deflect the wind. It will deflect the wind.

Experimentation on the new type of window has been happily rewarded during the war. In Sweden where approximately 80 per cent of all buildings constructed in that country for a number of years are said to contain the new principle of window design.

Many City Automobiles Require Check on Brakes

Drivers are Co-Operating With Police In Campaign For Safety, Conservation

During the first three weeks of the nationwide brake emphasis program during which police are checking the reliability of automobile brakes Edmonton police have tested 1,045 cars. Of this number only 246 failed to pass the test, according to Sgt. A. E. Woodward, head of the traffic squad.

"This is a very good record and it is obvious that motorists are co-operating in this effort to cut down on the number of traffic accidents for many of the cars we check have just had the brakes overhauled," Sgt. Woodward said.

The campaign is being conducted by the International Brotherhood of Police Officers and the National Motor Vehicle Association.

West won this trick with the ace and then there was no more play in his hand but what his partner was asking him to shift to the west. He did not make the mistake of leading the king of clubs, however, and instead he led the king of hearts. East followed this trick with the ace and returned a diamond. West's partner a ruff and setting the dummy.

U.S. Infantrymen Disappointed

Twelve Autographed Copies of Mein Kampf Prove "Principal Find" In Hitler's Safe

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

MUNICH, May 12.—(AP)—There were disappointed faces in the United States 10th Infantry when one of its machine gunners opened Hitler's safe in his private home at Aachen, Prime Regent of Alsace yesterday.

Instead of the expected documents they found only 12 copies, first edition of "Mein Kampf" most of them autographed.

After the residue was found one of the most important of the principal findings in all Germany. The documents found in the safe were autographed copies of Hitler's book, "Mein Kampf," written in 1925 and 1926, and which was the principal source of Hitler's political and racial theories.

DECEITFUL PROPAGANDA

The more one studies Hitler's "Mein Kampf," the more one realizes the "Mein Kampf" is a masterpiece of propaganda. It is a book which is full of lies, and which is full of lies.

Like everything affecting Hitler, the private details of his life are full of lies. He is a man who is full of lies, and who is full of lies.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

She was reported to have committed suicide in the home of her husband, a German officer, who was killed in action during the war.

Only a few minutes from Hitler's retreat is the home of the much-discussed Eva Braun — at Wasserburger Strasse 12. After inspection and a talk with the caretaker here I must revise my previous opinion on one phase of Hitler's life, namely, his relationship to women.

At Eva Braun's home I felt convinced there was some sort of connection between the father and the father-in-law, and that the father-in-law was a person of no small importance.

On the painting of Eva Braun, which is a masterpiece of propaganda, I found a number of interesting details.

TOO MUCH CHICKEN

THE Teenie Weenies are generally clean little people. The Dunc sometimes carries a rather dirty handkerchief, and he has to be warned quite often to wash his ears and neck, but most of the other Teenie Weenie men keep themselves neat and clean. It is rather doubtful whether they would be so careful if it were not for the Lady of Fashion. That little dirt chaser is constantly on the watch and if she sees a Teenie Weenie come to the dinner table with black fingernails she raises her tiny eyebrows in such a disapproving way as to make the offending Teenie Weenie hurry away for nail brush and soap.

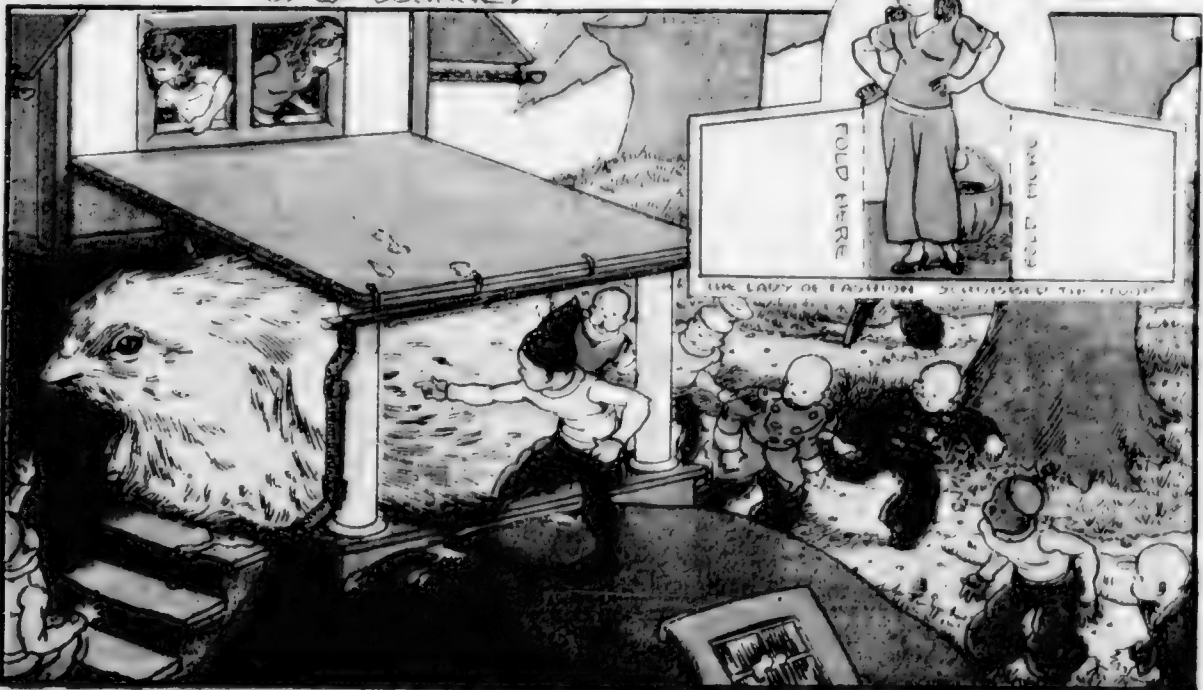

The Lady of Fashion is mainly responsible for the neat appearance of the Teenie Weenie village, too. When the men neglect their work she keeps after them until they put things in order. She seldom gets angry, but once she nearly lost her temper and that was on account of the chicken the Teenie Weenies had hatched from an egg.

The little people had chased the chicken away because it was causing them no end of trouble. They hadn't seen the chicken for nearly two weeks and now that it was gone the Lady of Fashion asked to have the floor of the front porch painted. Nothing happened for several days. Then she announced that she would scrub the porch and if it wasn't painted by the next day she would darn no more Teenie Weenie stockings and patch no more Teenie Weenie pants. That put the men to work, and by lunchtime the next day the floor was covered with a coat of fresh paint.

Shortly after the painting had been done there was a little shower of rain but not enough to hurt the fresh paint. While the Teenie Weenies were eating lunch they heard strange noises on the front porch. Several of the little people ran out the kitchen door and around to the front of the shoe house. There, crouched on the freshly painted floor, was the chicken. It had crawled up onto the porch in order to get out of the rain. The chicken had grown a great deal since it had been away and it completely filled the porch. The men had to do considerable pulling and pushing to get it off. The fresh paint was completely ruined by the chicken's muddy feet and the Lady of Fashion lost her patience.

The TEENIE WEEENIES

BY WM DONAHAY

"That chicken is entirely too much chicken to have around here," she cried. "You'll have to chase it away."

The men chased the chicken far away from the village and the next morning they cleaned and painted the porch again. Now there is complete peace in the Teenie Weenie village.
